Event Update

DEAR IEEE SECTION MEMBERS

The section has been very active in recent months, as highlighted in this newsletter. Up-to-date information on upcoming events and meetings can be found under the headings 'Events' and 'Meetings'.

AUSTRIA SECTION GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The annual General Assembly of the IEEE Austria Section, held on November 21, 2024, at the "Haus der Ingenieure" in Vienna, celebrated technological advancements and organizational achievements. The event featured keynotes on ethical AI design and its legal implications, presented by Sabine Singer and Dr. Stefan Eder, offering valuable perspectives on critical challenges in the field.

A notable milestone was the establishment of the Life Members Affinity Group, aimed at leveraging the expertise of long-standing members for mentorship and community engagement. Reports from various local chapters further demonstrated the section's dedication to fostering innovation, collaboration, and professional growth. Thanks were extended to the OVE, which generously provided the meeting room for this event.

Many thanks to all speakers and participants!

STUDENT ACTIVITIES SUPPORT

The section supports students in advancing their careers and organizing innovative events with their peers through two award programs designed specifically for them.

IEEE Austria Student Mobility and Conference Grant

This grant helps section student members participate in conferences, workshops, and other educational activities within IEEE-related fields. The goal is to support applicants in advancing their education, building international connections, and gaining valuable experience.

The submission deadlines are February 1st, June 1st, and September 1st each year!

IEEE Austria Student Branch Award

This award recognizes innovative initiatives and impactful activities or events created by Student Branches. Students who have organized unique events or made special contributions can contact their local Student Branch or coordinator to apply for one of the award categories. The deadline for submission is September 15th.

The submission deadline is the 15th of September each year!
